

Christmas Trip Dec 16-21, 2013: Written by first time team member, Julia G.

As a 15-year-old not only going to Haiti for the first time but going out of the country, I'm so grateful to have had the opportunity to go. Having learned so much from this experience, I thank God every day for all that I have. Every feeling came out of me on this trip, the good and the bad, seeing everything that's happening. Before going to Haiti I didn't really know what to expect because seeing it in real life right in front of you is so different from photos and hearing about Haiti. Some of the things that really affected me going to Haiti were going to the metal shops, going to the orphanage, giving gifts to the Haitian students, and much more.

Being back in America is nice but I would love to do something like this again. I won't ever be able to forget my trip to Haiti. Can't wait to hopefully go again next year!
